Rezon8 Portfolio Company Receives Elite Tier III Certification by the Uptime Institute

SAO PAULO, BRAZIL – July 21, 2015 – DC Matrix, a highly secure Tier III data center strategically located in the vicinity of the Sao Paulo financial district, is pleased to announce it has received Tier III certification in the “Design” category by the Uptime Institute, an international leader in data center certification. This elite certification status confirms that DC Matrix fully meets the stringent requirements for redundancy and resiliency set forth by the Uptime Institute’s standards for Tier III certified data centers around the world.

“DC Matrix already has a well-established reputation for delivering the highest level of security and service uptime among Sao Paulo data centers, however receiving official Tier III certification from the prestigious Uptime Institute independently confirms our ranking among the best data center facilities around the globe,” says Eber Lacerda, Jr., COO of DC Matrix.
